Translated for the National Intelligencer, from the Moniteur of Louisiana.

NEW-ORLEANS, Dec. 21, 1803.
The work is at length consummated—Louisiana changes her government for the last time; and the flag of the United States has throughout this city every where replaced that of the French republic.

The following account of the three last days will complete the history of these events, which mark an epoch, destined to be one of the most memorable in the history of America.

On Sunday last, the 18th of this month, the colonial Prefect, commissioner of the French government, was invited to assist in the divine service of a form of worship, about to cease to be national in this country from the nature of the government under which the people were about to pass. The religious ceremonies were celebrated with the greatest pomp: The Colonial Prefect, accompanied by the municipal body, by French officers, with those of the militia, and many other respectable persons, entered the church through a line of grenadiers, and there received mass, with the honours due to the representative of the French Republic.

The lines
Domine, salvam fac rempublicam; Domine, salvas fac Consoles:
Once more resounded thro' the church: where they had been regularly sung, on festivals and Sabbaths, from the first taking possession of the country by France.

At two o'clock in the afternoon, were seen passing along the bank of the river, the commissioners of the United States, Mr. Claiborne and General Wilkinson, preceded by a fine detachment of volunteers of the Mississippi territory, on horseback. They proceeded immediately to citizen Laussat's and their arrival was announced by the discharge of nineteen cannon.

Citizen Laussat received them in his saloon, in the midst of a numerous company —when after resting a few minutes, he led them into his cabinet, where they remained in conference for more than an hour.

They had no sooner left him than it became public, that on the next day, Tuesday at eleven o'clock in the morning Louisiana would be given up to the United States.
Meanwhile the American commissioners retired at three o'clock to their camp, and from that moment no doubt remained of preparations being made for their taking possession.

On Wednesday we were most agreeably surprised by the display of a body of fine cavalry, travelling the city from one end to another, and bending their way towards the camp. It was Citizen Laussat, who thus attended, was on his way to visit the Commissioners of the United States; he was preceded by the Major, and adjutant Major of the militia in French uniform, at his side was the Commandant de la Place, the Colonel of the militia, an aid-du-camp, and the Secretary of the commission; in the midst of which his superb dress, his noble horse, the richness of its harness, of blue velvet embroidered with silver, distinguished him from every other.

He was followed by a number of the young officers of militia, French soldiers and inhabitants of the city. This retinue amounting to about sixty men, offered a spectacle truly brilliant, and it was a matter of universal surprise, how, on so short a notice, had been collected a body of cavalry so numerous, so excellent, and so well equipped. But what is impossible to chiefs beloved by the Louisianians—in half an hour afterwards, the municipality followed in carriages, multitudes assembled, and the road for half a league, was completely covered. Their reception at camp was a-la-militaire, and accompanied with every honor.

On their entering the marque of the officers, the cannons were fired to salute the French commissioners, music succeeded, and played the air dearest to Frenchmen, namely, Buonaparte's march. The Colonial Prefect, presented the members of the municipal body, and afterwards the officers and principal citizens, to the American Commissioners, conversed with them, and after making the tour of the camp, retired in the same order that he came. The night following the precautions of the police were increased, and the guards and patroles doubled, the Colonial Prefect went himself to reconnoiter the different posts, and rode through the interior of the city.

At length that day dawned, which was to usher in a new era for the people of the Mississippi.

Citizen Laussat, commissioner of the French Republic, proceeded to the city Hotel on foot, at the head of the municipal body of the officers attached to his mission, a great number of militia officers and distinguished inhabitants of the city and surrounding country, and of the citizens of his nation. He was saluted as he passed by the republican brig L'Argo.

The weather was exceedingly fine, and the temperature mild as that of April. In about an hour the troops of the United States presented themselves, where they were met in military form at the gates, and after receiving the orders of the Colonial Prefect, were introduced into the city.

They displayed in the square, having the American commissioners at their head, and being commanded by one of them, General Wilkinson. He formed them in the line of battle, opposite the front of the city hotel, the armed militia and the French company under captain Faugard, were arrayed on the opposite side. A detached company, at a little distance, was stationed near the national flag.

The American commissioners, ascending to the hall, were met on the grand staircase by the assistant of the mayor, the chief of the battalion Commandant de la Place, the first adjutant major of the militia, and the secretary of the commission, who were placed there to receive them. The commissioner of the French Republic, himself, with the municipal body, received them in the audience hall; he was seated in an elevated chair, Mr. Claiborne at his right, and Gen. Wilkinson on his left in other chairs, the secretary of the French commission standing before them on the right, and the secretary of the American commission on the left.

The commissioners of the United States
presented to the commissioner of the French Republic, their full powers, which were immediately read by the secretary of commission, Wadsworth, and repeated by the secretary of commission, Daugerot.

Citizen Laussat briefly announced the object of French, and at his order, citizen Daugerot afterwards read the Treaty of Cession of Louisiana, with the powers of which the first consul Bonaparte, had invested citizen Laussat, in the name of the French People, that he might execute the same, according to the process verbal of the exchange of ratifications, which were to precede the execution. These readings over, citizen Laussat rose and said: "That from this moment he gave to the commissioners of the United States, possession of the country and dependencies of Louisiana, conformably to the articles 1, 2, 4, and 5 of the treaty and to the conventions of this 10th Florial, year 11th (30th April) in order, that according to the treaty the sovereignty and property of Louisiana, should pass to the United States, under the same clauses and conditions with which it had been ceded by Spain to France, in virtue of the treaty concluded at St.
Ilelsonso, the 9th Vendemiaire, year 9. (October 1, 1800) which had received its execution by the French having taken possession of this colony."

After these words, citizen Laussat took the keys of the forts of New Orleans and presented them to Mr. Claiborne; he then continued thus:
"I here declare that in virtue of the powers, with which I am vested, and of the mission with which I am charged by the first consul, that all citizens and inhabitants of Louisiana, who shall remain under the government of the United States, are from this instant released from their oaths of fidelity to the French republic." Citizen Laussat, then rose and changed seats with Mr. Claiborne. The secretaries of commissions then read the process verbal of this ceremony, the one in the French, and the other in the English language; they were then on both sides signed and sealed and reciprocally exchanged, and the sittings ended. The citizens went to the principal balcony of the hotel. At their appearance the flag of the French republic was lowered and at the same time that of the United States raised, when they met at equal height, they remained till a signal of the firing of cannon on the square, the forts commenced a discharge, which was repeated by the batteries; at this moment the American colours was raised and the French flag taken down.

Citizen Laussat then descended from the city hotel, with Mr. Claiborne and general Wilkinson. They placed themselves in front of the line formed by the militia, when citizen Laussat spoke as follows:

"Militia of New Orleans and Louisiana!— You have given proofs of the greatest zeal, and of a firm devotion to the French standard, during the short time it has appeared on your banks.
I shall make this known to France and her government. In their name I return you thanks.— Behold the commissioners of the United States, to whom I transfer the command over you.— Obey them henceforth as the representatives of your legitimate sovereign."

This concise harangue being finished, citizen Laussat placed himself along side of the standard of the republic. Immediately the drum beat, and the company of French citizens put themselves in motion—the weather was uncommonly favorable for this ceremony; the crowd was great; the windows and balconies presented to view the most beautiful women of Louisiana. The French, Spanish and American plumes rose here and there, as in tufts, from the midst of the various groups. A large number of Americans collected at a short distance from the city hotel, throwing their hats in the air and huzzing. But, in general, the greatest silence and order reigned throughout the multitude. A thousand persons have observed and repeated, that, during the remainder of the day, at the sight of the French flag, beheld on high, and then disappearing sorrow and emotion were depicted in almost every countenance, and tears flowed from almost every eye. This emotion was redoubled when the company of French citizens carried off, with slow steps, this beloved emblem of our national ali-ance. It would be difficult for the spectator even to forget this moment, on the affecting spectacle Fifty different Frenchmen, brought to this country, by different views, destinies and chances, the one unknown to the other, surrounding the standard of their country, finding themselves all brothers, render to it, from the spontaneous and abundant emotions of their hearts, a homage of affection, devotion & respect. Their manners and habits had neither resemblance or military uniformity; but from their positions, their motions, their distance and their steps, it was easy to see that many of them had marched with the Bre- and had been counted among the distinguished defenders of their country, as their company passed before the American lines, they presented a scene to the heart. The drum, displayed their colours, and saluted it with their cannon; and while it could be perceived weeping eyes remained fixed upon it. It was at the house of the commissioner of the republic, and into his hands at the company deposited the flag, for whose protection it had been organized. On leaving the ranks to receive it, Citizen Laussat thus spoke:

"French Citizens:—I shall render an account to our government of the patriotic sentiments with which you have fulfilled at the distance of 2,500 leagues a religious duty to this standard.
I shall require from your commander a list of your names, and shall transmit them to the Minister of Marines and the Colonies, and you may rest assured that they will be placed under the eyes of the first consul." Scarcely had the French commissioner entered his dwelling, when the officers of the militia waited upon him with the following address:

"We have desired to render to you, and thus you, to the French republic, this new homage; while we still wear (pointing to their cockades) this emblem of the transient union which has subsisted between us, and of the attachment we shall always feel for it."

The scene was very affecting.
At three o'clock the company seated themselves at the table of the colonial Prefect who gave a dinner to the commissioners of the United States, followed by a tea party in the evening.
The Festival was splendid. On the dinner table were ninety two covers; and there were from four to five hundred guests at supper. The main table accommodated sixty, the remainder were distributed at small tables arranged under the longer galleries with which all external communication was cut off; while within glittered the American, Spanish and French colours, which intermingled, and falling in large folds formed the most elegant drapery around the walls. The decorations of the great table consisted of plateaux embellished with beautiful paintings, & sum-mounted with temples, pavilions, & pillars. The position and situation of the table, indicated by raising the American colours over every other decoration, escaped the observation of no one. It was also noticed that nearly all the American families of the city were invited to the entertainment. A number of the civil and military officers, accompanied the commissioners of the U.
States. The Spanish civil and military officers surrounded the commissioners of his Catholic Majesty; and the rest of the company was composed of French, and principally Louisianians.
The toasts commenced after the first course, and continued till the end of the repast, which was prolonged by the firing that followed them. They were given in the following order:—The United States and Jefferson, in Madeira. Charles the 4th and Spain, in Malaga and Canary; The French Republic and Bonaparte, in Red and White Champagne. Each of these toasts was announced by sixty three discharges of artillery; of which twenty one were fired from the forts; twenty one from the French battery before the prefecture; and twenty one from the French brig L'Argo. After these toasts, given by citizen Laussat, the Spanish and American commissioners gave the French Commissioner and his family and the French Commissioner then gave, to the friendship and indivisible union of the three powers whose Commissioners are present. Additional discharges were heard, and others repeated on the Colonial Prefect announcing as the last toast, TO THE ETERNAL HAPPINESS OF LOUISIANA! Acclamations, transports, and huzzas accompanied each of these toasts.
The assembly at tea was but an eucress and uninterrupted continuation of the company. Tea was served at seven, and English country dances immediately commenced continued, alternately with French country dances until 9 o'clock in the morning, except during the interval of supper which was served up at 2 in the morning.
Eight card tables detained part of the company till a much later hour. No fire occurred to disturb the harmony of the festival, although there was the most magnificent illumination.
The assembly was more numerous, and protracted than we have before witnessed. It was as brilliant in society and dress, as any preceding; and only differed from them in being opened and terminated with less gaiety, and in being marked by a slight tint of melancholy. But in the animation of the dance, play and conversation, the night was devoted to pleasure.

again on the ensuing day, multiplied testimonies of the regret felt on his leaving the country.— He shewed himself much affected by, and it was easily seen that he reciprocated them.

The subjoined paper is the translation of the declaratory act signed in the French and Spanish languages at New Orleans the 30th November last, between the Commissioners of France and the Spanish Commissioners on the formal delivery of Louisiana by the latter to Mr.
Laussat as Commissioner of the French Republic.

The undersigned, citizen Clement Peter Laussat, Colonial Prefect, commissioner of the French government for receiving possession, in the name of the French Republic, of the Colony or Province of Louisiana from the hands of the officers or other agents of his Catholic Majesty in conformity to the full powers conferred upon him, in the name of the French people, by citizen Bonaparte, First Consul, bearing date of the 17th Prairial, 11th year (June 6th, 1803,) countersigned by the Secretary of State, Hugues Maret, and by his Excellency the Minister of the Navy and of the Colonies Decrees, which powers he has this moment personally delivered to the Commissioners of his Catholic Majesty, together with the Royal Order, dated Barcelona, the 15th of October, 1802.

And the above-mentioned Commissioners of his Catholic Majesty, Don Manuel de Salcedo, Brigadier of the Royal Armies, Governor military and political of the Province of Louisiana and West-Florida, Inspector of the veteran troops and the militia of the same, Vice Patron Royal, Judge Sub-delegate of the Superintend-ance General of the Couriers, &c. and Don Sebastian Calvo de la Puerta, and Don Farril Marquis de Casa Calvo, Knight of the Order of St. James, Brigadier of the Royal Armies and Colonel of the Regiment of Infantry of the Havana; appointed Commissioners by his Catholic Majesty, for the delivery of the said Province to the French Republic, according to a Royal Order of the 18th January 1803, certifying by the present that on this day, the 8th of Frimaire, 12th year of the French Republic, and the 30th November, 1803, having met in the halls of the City hotel of New Orleans, respectively accompanied by the Chiefs and officers of the army and navy, the Cabildo, Secular and Ecclesiastical, the administration of the Royal Finances, the civil administration, and by several other distinguished persons of their respective nations.

The said citizen Laussat has delivered to the said commissioners of his C. M. the above mentioned full powers of citizen Bonaparte, First Consul of the French Republic, and immediately after, the said Don Manuel de Salcedo and Marquis de Casa Calvo have declared that in virtue and according to the terms of the order of the king of Spain, dated Barcelona, 15th Oct. 1802, and countersigned by his excellency Don Pedro Cevallos, first secretary and councillor of state, they from this moment give to the said commissioner of France citizen Laussat, possession of of the said colony of Louisiana, and of its dependencies as also of the city and island of New Orleans, with the same extent which they have this day, and which they had when France possessed them, and ceded them to the royal crown of Spain, and such as they ought to be after the treaties which may have successively been made between these states of his C. M. and those of other powers, in order that they may henceforth appertain to the French Republic, and be governed and administered by its officers or governors, in the manner which may suit her interests; and accordingly they have solemnly delivered to him the keys of this place; hereby declaring that they release from the oath of allegiance towards his said majesty, all the inhabitants who shall choose to remain in the service and under the authority of the French republic; and in order that this solemn act may appear forever, the undersigned have affixed to these presents, written in the French and Spa-they have caused the same to be countersigned by the secretaries of the respective commis-

CHARLESTON, January 13.
By a French gentleman arrived in this city, we are informed, that the town of Cape Nicola Mole was evacuated on the 6th December last.
Previous to the evacuation, Gen. Noailles had been six times summoned to surrender; but he refused to capitulate either with the British or the Brigands. The town was abandoned without leaving the least means of defence. All the warlike machines were destroyed: and 102 twenty four pounders, 17 mortars, and 7 six pounders, were spiked. The army, amounting to 2,200 men, 39,000 wt. of powder, and 15 pieces brass cannon, were embarked. But Gen.

Noailles, having brought off every one of his men, was the last that embarked. On leaving the harbour, they were chased by several British brigates; but their small fleet escaped them, except one vessel. The troops landed at Port au Prin-cipe, in the Island of Cuba, where they were very hospitably received by the Spaniards.

The sloop Economy, Smith, from this port arrived at Charleston the 17th inst.

The learned Lord Verulam relates that it was a frequent saying of Jason, the Thessalian, that "some things may be done unjustly, in order that many things may be done justly." The dismissals from office, &c. which have taken place within the 2 last years in this country, may perhaps have been hazarded by the party in power, on the authority of Jason. Considering their averseness to authority of any kind, and particularly to ancient authority, it will be rather surprising if they have acted upon a saying of such extreme antiquity. We are rather disposed to think that it is an authority of a more recent date and nearer home, upon which they have proceeded—the venerable authority of will, and self-interest.

One limb of Jason's proposition, however, yet remains unpractised. We have seen the men unjustly put out of office and dismissed but we have yet to see, and we fear it will be long till we do see, what things have been done justly in consequence thereof.

Effence of the Woods, &c. &c.

Dr. Hunter's genuine Antibilious Pills,
For the prevention and cure of Yellow, Bilious and Putrid Fevers.

Every experienced physician knows that dangerous disorders arise from a redundancy of bile in the habit; however salutary a due fecer-tion of this fluid may be, yet a diffusion of it in the circulation is known, from its putrescent qualities, to bring on sudden and fatal fevers. The unparalleled success of Dr. Hunter's Antibilious Pills, in curing, and particularly in preventing this dreadful disease, is universally known in the islands, and has induced the proprietor to appoint agents in all the mercantile towns in the United States, for the accommodation of the public.
The Antibilious Pills are therefore, in an especial manner, recommended as a preventative, deferring the notice of all persons going to the West Indies, or any of those places infected with these fevers. Dr. Hunter has every possible reason, that can result from long and extensive experience, for believing that a dose of these pills, taken once every fourteen days, during the prevalence of our fall fevers, will prove an inallible preventative, and that, if taken in the early stages of these fevers, their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases seemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, may be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

In sickly times and places a dose should be taken once a fortnight, and if there is reason to apprehend personal danger, once a week.

Observe that the signatures of Messrs. Thos.
Stokes and Co. is affixed to each box, without which mark of authenticity they are not genuine.

MATRIMONY.

IT is much to be regretted but indisputably certain, that many persons of both sexes are deterred from entering into the married state, by secret infirmities, which delicacy forbids them to disclose; and there are not a few who being already married, are rendered miserable for want of those tender pledges of mutual love, without which happiness in this state is at least very precarious.
It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that these circumstances are often the result of general or partial relaxation of the system, and are equally certain that the genuine AROMA-TIC LOZENGES OF STEEL are the only remedy ever discovered for this species of debility. When taken into the stomach, they immediately dissolve and diffuse themselves like a vapor through every pore, producing effects at once delightful, salutary and permanent. When the spark of life begins to grow dim, the circulation languid, and the faculties paralyzed, these lozenges are found to give tone to the nerves, exhilarate the animal spirits, invigorate the body and reanimate the whole man. When aversion to exercise, loss of sleep, appetite, and palled countenance, indistinct apprehension, consumption, the delicate female will be preserved and restored to health and vigor by the beneficial influence of this medicine. When the delusions of imagination, or the force of bad example, have tempted unfortunate youth into the dangerous labyrinth of secret sensuality, debilitated his body, and impaired his understanding, these lozenges will protect him from lingering disease, the infirmities of premature old age, and a wretched constitution with all its agonizing reflections of conscious guilt. When the fumes and dryness of dissipation have brought on transient debility, relaxation, imbecility, and a long train of nervous affections, manifested by impaired memory, anxiety, agitation, tremors, languor, pale countenance, inattention, apathy in men; hysterics, spasms, loss of appetite, irregularity, weakness, abortion, pains in the back, chest, &c. in women; these lozenges will restore health and vigor to the debilitated frame, and cheerfulness and animation to the mind.

Price One Dollar per packet.

Particular directions for their use are sealed up with each, but as the great benefit to be derived from them can only be secured by having them genuine, the public are requested to observe that the signature of Messrs.
Thos. Stokes and Co. is affixed to each packet, without which mark of authenticity they are not genuine.

Dr. Atkinson's genuine Effence of Mustard.

Rheumatism is every day, instantly submits to its penetrating powers, which has succeeded in curing the most desperate cases of rheumatism, gout, lumbago, sciatica, neuritis, palsy, and complaints of the stomach, after frigid medicines have proved ineffectual. It is prepared in oil, and also in a solid state. The pills are particularly efficacious in rheumatism and indigestion, and by their salutary operation, promote perspiration, and gradually undermine the most obstinate rheumatism; and, at the same time, invigorate the debilitated constitution. The fluid effence is a remarkable emollient, necessarily used with the pills, and as generally excites a tingling sensation, it removes the causes of pain, by bringing on a circulation in the parts affected; by this means, frozen limbs are thawed, and the stiff joints, old strains and re-vulsions are generally cured by a few applications. The genuine is distinguished from counterfeits by the signature of Thos. Stokes and Co. being affixed to each bottle, with which mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

The genuine Scotch Itch Ointment.

The only medicine that cures this disagreeable disease, by its application, in many thousands having experienced its efficacy; it is unnecessary to add any more arguments in its favor, but to caution the public that the name Thos.
Stokes and Co. is affixed to each box, without this mark of authenticity, none are genuine.

Dr. Bardwell's genuine Eye Water.

A sovereign remedy for all diseases of the Eyes; specially removing inflammation, dimness, itching, and films; it never fails to cure those maladies which frequently succeed the measles, small-pox, and fever; and is an unpa-ralled strengthener of a weak sight.

Dr. Hunter's genuine Antibilious Pills.

An agreeable and certain preventive of the predisposition to inflammatory and malignant fever, which prevails at particular seasons of the year. The rapid and increasing demand from every part of the United States, and the West India Islands, is the best evidence of their superior excellence.

CHAMBAUD'S

Antasthmatic Lozenges.

A radical cure for coughs, colds, asthma and consumptions, difficulty of breathing, &c. &c.

Mr. CHAMBAUD, the sole proprietor of this medicine, has the satisfaction to announce that they have been the means of relieving many persons in a most precarious state of health. In common colds this medicine produces so salutary a perspiration that they generally are eradicated in a few hours. Coughing, being prolonged by that convul-sive symptom termed the tickling in the throat, it shortens its duration by promoting sleep and strengthening the constitution. Pulmonary complaints, affecting the breast and lungs; those affected with them experience an almost immediate relief. Asth-mas and confined consumptions have repeatedly been eradicated by them. Infants in the whooping cough, and women during pregnancy, may take them without the least fear of danger, and with the greatest expectation of relief; nor can it be administered at an improper season.

Annodyne Effence, for all kinds of Head Aches.

THE renowned virtues of the innodyne effence, is now so generally known, that it is no presumption in the Proprietor, to say, that Head Aches, arising from whatever cause, or however violent, instantly submit to its penetrating powers. This invaluable Annodyne, has frequently succeeded after the best advice, and every other remedy had failed; by its salutary operation, it insensibly promotes circulation and perspiration, and thereby prevents the return of the most obstinate periodical head aches.

SPRING PHYSIC.

DR. HUNTER'S Anti-Bilious Pills are unquestion-ably proved by ample experience to be the most effectual remedy, at the same time the most innocent, pleasant, and convenient medicine for the cure of febrile, bilious eruptions, jaundice, and other disorders originating from a corrupt state of the blood. The remarkable cure of Mr. Ellison of Albany, who had been twelve years tormented with a most distressing bilious complaint, as also that of Thomas Johnson, a labouring man, in the service of Mr. Van Rensselaer, who was afflicted with a most horrid leprosy, must have convinced every one who has read the particulars of these cases, belicite which, a variety of proofs of their efficacy, authenticated by persons of character and respectability are open to the examination of every inquirer. These pills naturally believed to have their due weight, and supercede the necessity of any further comment from the Proprietor, yet, he presumes to assert, that the reputation of this vegetable preparation will, on a fair trial, plead more forcibly its own recommendation than any thing which can be said of it.

Where also may be had,

Atkinson's worm destroying Lozenges.—These Lo-zenges not only destroy worms where they exist, but effectually prevent their return. In the families who have followed Dr. Atkinson's advice, and used them in the spring and fall among their children, as their coarseness, have now the happiness to find those children, which appeared sickly and contumacious, in the bloom of health, being entirely delivered from those dreadful vermin.

Sparta, Mount Pleasant,

March 27, 1803.

We hereby certify, that our daughter, about 4 years of age, has been very unwell and in a bad state of health for these last two years. We always suspected that she had worms and had given her several worm medicines, without any good effect, so that we despaired raising her till of late. Hearing of some surprising cures being performed by Atkinson's worm destroying Lozenges, we purchased a packet of them, and administered them according to the directions. The first dose brought away only one worm, and with it a quantity of slimy, offensive matters; the second brought away four monstrous thick worms nearly half a yard in length; and the third dose, a large quantity of a slimy, offensive matter. The vomiting and purging, with which the was frequently troubled have ceased—her appetite has become regular, and has over since enjoyed a perfect state of health, for which we are entirely indebted to this excellent medicine.

Reanimating Solar Tincture, or Pabulum of Life, Of the cure of Consumption and Asthma. Disorders in the Stomach and Bowels, Convulsions, Cholera and Di-sentery.

Cautious investigation, and attentive enquiry into the nature and laws of the animal economy, having long confirmed an opinion in the mind of the inventor, that all the maladies abovementioned, derive their origin from the same cause, indolent debility, or consequent weakness, the analogy of their source, by a natural inference suggested the idea of their removal by the same means; the result was the discovery of the Reanimating Solar Tincture, which after having been employed in thousands of instances, with the most unexampled and astonishing success, has obtained the warmest approbation of characters of the first respectability, both in and out of the profession; the proprietors can confidently recommend, as one of the most certain, efficacious, and pleasant remedies ever discovered by man or offered to the world.

Price, 1 dollar and 1 dollar 50 cents per bottle. The large bottle contains nearly two of the small. Copious Directions for their use are sealed up with each bottle.

Dr. Stoughton's Cordial Bitters, faithfully prepared at the original warehouse, London.

This incomparable medicine has stood the test of universal approbation in Europe for near an hundred years, in the cure and prevention of,

Loss of appetite, bad digestion, windy cholera, urinary, hystric vapours, faintness and trembling, ague and fever, depressed spirits, foul breath, worms in children, scurvy, obstructions or stoppage, bilious fevers, sick fits, &c. &c.

These Bitters being now generally used in taverns and public places, and universally acknowledged by all who have tried their effects, to be superior to the compositions formerly imposed in imitation thereof; the proprietor hath reduced the price to those who purchase largely above fifty per cent. Directions will be printed on the Bottles, and which will be also sealed, in order to detect counterfeits and upstart pretenders, who will all tell you, they make the genuine Stoughton's Bitters; and in order to impose their trash on the public, they sometimes copy a part of the true advertisement and directions.

Specific Drops for Deafness.

amazing success, in DEAFNESS & HARDNESS of HEARING. Those who are unacquainted with the great relief afforded by this valuable medicine, are earnestly recommended to trial. Few are the cases in which it has not been of great service, and very often perfected a complete cure.

Copious directions for the use of the Specific Drops for Deafness are sealed up with each bottle. Price one dollar.

A BANKRUPT.

A sale of all the effects surrendered by the said John B. Armistead to the commissioners, will take place at Middleburg, in the county of Louhave got to hand, relating to a claim which the said Armistead gave up, against Zachariah Cox for 160,000 acres of Land, in the purchase made by the said Cox of the State of Georgia; the want of these papers together with the expectation that some compromise would take place between the claimants of Land by purchase from the State of Georgia, and the Congress of the United States, by which value would be affixed to this claim, has delayed the sale till the time now set.
